

Maya Schnee

Garden

After 13 years of Girl Scouting, Maya dedicated her project to creating an outdoor learning space for students in a low-income neighborhood. Maya repaired the school garden and taught students how to maintain it so it can truly sustain itself over time. Before starting her college journey at Northern Arizona University, Maya was diagnosed with scoliosis, but that did not stop her from creating positive change in her community.