

Grazia Caramucci

Step Into the Outdoors

After 12 years as a Girl Scout, Grazia's love for camping inspired Step Into the Outdoors, a Gold Award project encouraging girls to experience outdoor recreation activities. To help build their confidence Grazia organized neighborhood hikes where she offered badge workshops to get more Girl Scouts comfortable stepping into the outdoors alongside their parents and/or guardians. Grazia then proceeded to build upon foundational outdoor skills hosting programs at Camp Maripai and Parsons Leadership Center. Grazia's Gold Award project continues through a Service Unit committee dedicated to maintaining outdoor engagement for all girls. Grazia currently attends Northern Arizona University and is studying Biomedical Sciences.

