Library Redesign

Seeking an opportunity to support the arts program at her high school, Klarissa worked with a team to redesign her school's choir uniform and music library. Her team catalogued over 200 dresses and installed new inventory numbers and size labels. They also rebuilt the music library by establishing the foundation of a database that details how to set up the new system and how to sustain it for future generations of students. Through collaboration with student clubs on campus, Klarissa created a functional and curated system that will support the sustainability of the arts program. Throughout her 12 years of Girl Scouting, Klarissa has gained communication, project management and adaptability skills that she will continue to expand as she transitions to her next journey. She plans to study biochemistry at the University of Arizona.
