Tatiyana Mack

Grow, Grow, Grow

Tatiyana Mack earned her Gold Award through her project Grow, Grow, Grow, which focused on the importance of native trees and their impact on both the environment and mental health. Her project involved planting two Desert Willow Trees at Tanner Chapel AME Church in Phoenix and renovating a room used for religious and therapy sessions. She also educated troop members and local children at elementary schools about the value of growing native trees and how the environment can influence personal well-being. Through her project, Tatiyana provided a space for growth and an uplifting sight, improving the environment and her community. A Girl Scout of 13 years, Tatiyana attends Betty H. Fairfax High School and will pursue Business Management with a concentration in International Business at Louisiana State University.
